Theta Alpha Kappa is the national honor society for religious studies and theology. It was established in 1976 by Professor Albert Clark in Manhattan College. The honor society recognizes students' academic excellence in religion and theology and offers a multitude of opportunities upon membership: recognized distinction in the field, publishing, scholarship programs, a community of fellow scholars, and federal employment.

The Religious Studies Student Forum had the honor of being chartered in March 2017. Students that are majors or minors, have at least 12 hours of religious studies classes, have completed at least 3 semesters at Georgia State University, and have received a 3.5 GPA in their Religious Studies are eligible to join.

If you are interested in joining, please submit the attached application above by _____. Please be aware that in order to be considered you must attend at least 3 Religious Studies events. If accepted, you will be contacted through email for information on the induction ceremony. If you have any questions you may email the Religious Studies Student Forum President Nancy Ramirez, nramirez5@student.gsu.edu.
